

Keep corporate greed away from our free press. Large media conglomerates are not interested in the first amendment, but the FCC's sole duty should be to protect the citizenry's interests. I don't know what sort of pressure was put on the FCC to change the rules but in the interests of our democracy, resist corporate influence.